The following is from The Richmond Examiner, of November 4, 1861:

"There has been received at the Navy Department the report of Captain Hunter, dated off the North Carolina Coast, Confederate steamer Curlew, October 30, 1861. We make the following extract from the report:

Confederate States Stramer Contaw, Oct. 31, 1861.

At dawn yesterday we started, and on our way looked in at Beacon Island and Ocrocoke, but saw nothing with certainty of the enemy at or near either place. We then started for Hatteris Inlet, and when near the position of the inner buoy the enemy opened fire upon us from the fort and two or three of their steamers, without injury. On coming within casy steamers, without injury. On coming within cast range, I sighted the rifled gun at the Harriet Lane and as rapidly as possible. We fired six shells of twenty-five and twenty fuse, and as the course of the steamer was necessarily changed to keep in the narrow channel, we fired the stern gun at them five times, training it well forward. It is uncertain whether the enemy sustained any injury, although many of the crew and officers think the fourth shell took effect amidship of a very long three-masted steamer lying near the Harriet Lane, and another burst between Provinces. This practice is a direct violation of the instructions, I withdrew and waited within half a postal regulations, which do not require prepayment mile of the buoy, hoping to draw the small steamer When we fired the stern gun the fort re-te shot. We stood back, fired another shell, and took our departure.

ELECTION IN THE CITY

An unusually light vote was polled in this city yesterday, much smaller, in fact, than was generally expected, the total not exceeding . Thousands, entirely absorbed by the war, were quite indifferen as to the result, and did not vote at all. There was no excitement or disturbance whatever attending the election, and, but for the knots of men gathered about the polling booths, one would not have supposed that a State and County contest was being waged. Upon the local tickets there was a good deal of contention, and an indefinite amount of scratching and trading. How well the compact between the Republican and Union organizations was observed, the votes will show. It is currently charged that many Republicans voted for Lynch, in order to defeat Mr. Brown, but we are not prepared LANE—THE FORTS AND HARRIET LANE to believe so badly of them. The Police arrangements were all that could be desired, to insure good order; but we have not heard of a solitary instance in which anybody attempted to break a head, swear in an illegal vote, or otherwise render himself amenable to arrest. Owing to the complex combinations on the local tickets, the canvass was very much delayed, considering the lightness of the vote. Below we present our renders with returns as complete as we have been able to make them, collected from all the Districts, by our own reporters, expressly for

THE CITY AT NIGHT. New-York has saldom seen such a quiet night after election as last night was. There were few disturbances; a searcity of drunken men-unaccountable, unless the hard times be considered; a limited number of arrests, and no broken heads that we hear of. Here and there a solitary potulent individual, with a flimsy New-York Herald sticking from his pocket, went his uncertain way, either oblivious to everything, or gratifying his feeling by huzzahing for Bull Run Jimmy, varying his performance by bel-lowing snatches of political ballads. In many of the streets, boys gathered around their customary bonfires, fed by purloined ashboxes, barrels, washtubs, pails, and theater bill-boards. In the police statio ouses, gathered groups of men, anxious to hear the results of the election, but in which they were often disappointed. At the headquarters of the various political parties and factions crowds assembled, and in a quiet way talked over the chances o success of this or that ticket. The latest war news was not forgotten, but formed a fruitful topic of conversation. All agreed that the vote had been extremely light; that there was a great lack of excitement; and that a more orderly election they had never witnessed. As the evening advanced politicians and friends, in light wagons, drawn by fast nags, or in close carriages, visited the station-houses, and polling-places, with intent to learn the success or defeat of their friends. As they received good news, they vented their feelings by uproarious cheers, and then took a congratulatory drink; if the new madge, 146.

Herkimer—Jones, 285; Ballard, 258; Champlain, 145, and then took a congratulatory drink; if the news was bad a consolatory drink was resorted to; if doubtful, a hopeful drink was all that could be taken. At a comparatively early hour the pelling-places were nearly deserted, the monotonous "tally" of the canvassers and the heavy irregular snoring of some half-intoxicated or worn-out watcher, being the only evidences that the canvass was not yet completed and the polling-places not desorted.

Calls were made for several speakers, but for son time none were visible. At length a Mr. Hennessy rose and made some rather sharp strictures upon the Troy, 1st Assembly District, Saxe, Democrat, elected by about 360 majority. Richards, the People's candidate for Senator of Rensselaer and Washington counties, is elected.

Hudson City, Jones, 771; Ballard, 524; Judiciary, Miller, 746; Cook, 179.

Town of Stayvesant—The majority on the State and County is about 125 for the Democratic and the press was called upon to ferret out the thieves and miscreants who were cheating the ration; and the press was called upon to ferret out the thieves and miscreants who were cheating the poor soldiers' wifes out of their husbands' pay. Good men must be put in places of trust-(" Hurrah for Jimmy Lynch"-" Don't count you chickens before they are hatched.") The return from the Ist District of the Fourteenth Ward was received, and, as it gave Lynch a decided majority, was received with three cheers. A patriotically inclined individual at this point proposed three groans for THE TRIBUNE, which were given.

The Chairman made incessant calls upon those who had returns to come forward and have them announced. They came in very slowly, however, and those present whiled away the tedium as best they could with the aid of tobacco and irrelevant questions to the Chairman, who maintained a comme ble equanimity under the duties pressing upon him. At 91 o'clock, the crowd were amusing themselves by easting reflections upon Tammany, and giving cheers for Jim Lynch. A colloquial style of communication prevailed throughout the hall, as also between the Chairman and his hearers. At length Mr. Hennessy was induced again to address the crowd, at the conclusion of which three cheers were give for him. Mr. H. then proposed three cheers for the country, which were given.

At this point Paddy Burns sppeared, giving the result of the election in the Seventeenth Ward, which, being favorable to Jimmy Lynch, was received with cheers. Burns made a speech, which was received with cheers and hisses. It was expected that the Hon. Fernando Wood would address the patriotic citizens of Mozart, but at 101 o'clock, when our reporter left, he had not made his appearance.

THE REPUBLICAN HEADQUARTERS,

The thin attendance at the Republican Headquarters last evening was a fair indication of the general apathy with which this election was regarded. No returns had been received up to 94 o'clock p. m., and when our reporter withdrew, the Headquarters were

At an early hour Mr. Waldo Hutchins entered the room and said that Mr. Brown had gained a large majority over his competitors in the Sixteenth Ward. This statement was received with great gratification. Information of the progress of the canvass came in slowly, and gentlemen paced up and down the room restlessly, anxious and impatient. New comers asked, "Any returns yet?" "No, Sir.! "How is the city going for Sheriff" "Don't know; think it's between Brown and Lynch." At 9 o'clock Mr. E. J. Brown announced that in the Fifteenth Ward the vote stood as follows: For Senator-Manierre, 921; Smith, 582; Bradley, 592. The announcement was received with great applause. Before full and definite returns had been received the greater part of the assembly had retired to their

Sheriff, based upon the number present, would be exceedingly damaging to that gentleman. Not over a dozen persons were present at any time. At an early hour his friends conceded that if Mr. Vulté did not elect himself, he certainly did not damage the prospects of the Bull Run candidate; and they talked and smoked over his defeat with a resignation that looked very much as though they had all along expected it. No arrangements having been made for the reception and reading of the returns here, the dozen or so withdrew after a while to the Police uch the reverse, so much so that a judgment as to headquarters and newspaper offices to learn the exact returns, meet more of Mr. Vulté's friends, and perchance indulge in reciprocal condolence. The Littlejohn Libel Sait.
